

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Motorola and IQS Team to Provide Mobility and Quality IQS Accepted into Motorola PartnerSelect Program

Cleveland, Ohio – May 18th, 2006 - IQS, a leading provider of enterprise quality and compliance management software, has been accepted into the Motorola PartnerSelect Program. The Motorola PartnerSelect ISV Program was created to foster collaboration between Motorola and companies that play an important role in the partner ecosystem by delivering software applications that drive demand for the latest mobile computers.

IQS, by becoming a member of the Motorola's PartnerSelect Program, joins a select group of companies who are leveraging Motorola's technology. The primary focus of enterprise quality management is to reduce costs through optimized operations. Motorola's mobility solutions add an additional layer of efficiency in the critical and error prone arena of data entry. By gathering data at the point of origin, Motorola's mobile devices are able to efficiently deliver information critical to the quality process. IQS brings to Motorola's manufacturing clients a fully integrated, best-in-class quality management application that has saved its customers tens of millions of dollars.

John Cachat, Chairman of IQS, spearheaded the Motorola partnership personally, "Quality management is a data intensive process. At IQS, we have optimized our clients' business by centralizing and linking all data associated with quality – from engineering to post production. Motorola's mobile offering takes our streamlining to another level by accurately and reliably capturing data right at the source. The combination of the mobile data acquisition, and centralized, enterprise quality management will provide tremendous value to manufacturers focusing on efficiency", said Cachat.

As a member, IQS will be able to:

- Pair its enterprise-class integrated quality solution with state of the art mobility solutions to further streamline the data acquisition process essential to quality management
- Provide best-in-class manufacturing quality software applications for enterprise mobility customers
- Expand its partner network with other PartnerSelect members providing a global reach

Join Motorola and IQS for a Webcast on May 23rd. Learn about Lean Quality Management with Mobile Technology. One of the lean examples to be discussed is completing a five day audit in four hours with mobile access to an enterprise integrated quality system. You can register at www.iqs.com or call 800-635-5901.

About IQS

The IQS software helps companies reduce costs by improving quality. Since its inception in 1988, IQS has been a leading provider of enterprise quality and compliance management software to the manufacturing sector. Considered by industry analysts to occupy a leadership position within the market, IQS' solution comprehensively manages all of the activities necessary to meet the complete set of regulatory and customer requirements across the enterprise and extended supply chain. For more information, please visit www.iqs.com.

###